About This Game

Based on the sci-fi short story by Philip K. Dick, The Great C is a cinematic narrative set in the aftermath of an apocalyptic event. Featuring a thrilling storyline, stunning environments and a powerful soundtrack, the viewer is transported to a desolate landscape in which the remnants of humanity are ruled by an all-powerful supercomputer known as the Great C. Each year, the nearby village is forced to send a young person on a pilgrimage to appease the mysterious machine, a journey from which no one ever returns.

The Great C follows Clare, a young woman who finds her life upended when her fiancé is summoned for this year's pilgrimage. Leaving the safe confines of her village, Clare must decide whether to accept the rules of her harsh society or fight against the oppressive powers that created it.

The Great C is a sweeping 30+ minute experience, developed from the ground up to push the boundaries of storytelling in VR.

Official selection of the Venice Film Festival.

Clandestinity of Elsie is a unique rpgmaker horror game. It\u2019s got a good creepy atmosphere, and good story, and combat was ok. And even those it was short game it felt bigger when playing. Now for not really the bad but could have made better. One more monsters in the game, there are only four tips of monsters, why\u2019ll the ones we got were somewhat unique, just could have used more. Then there are no bosses in the game, I don\u2019t know with story you could have had very unique bosses. You all so only have one weapon in the whole game, and sometimes the game can feel a bit unfair with how the monsters can come out of no were and get you. The game all so hold\u2019s your hand by showing you what you can interact with and the game is short. But with that being said the game is still a good and scary rpgmaker horror game and I would recommended it if you like monsters, creepy atmosphere, a good story, and rpgmaker horror games. This is the game for you.. VEEERRRYYYY simple sudoku game, as you can see in the store screenshots. Is it worth AU$1.50... naaaaaahhhhhhhh. It's kind of boring.

Eventhough the controls are very simple, it doesn't really go hand in hand with what you want it to do which causes me to die plenty of times in the game, which i do not enjoy.

It's got it's sense of humor but for gameplay, I wouldn't recommend it at all for anybody. Unless you want to play it very casually and just for kicks, then maybe you would consider it for such a cheap price.. Pros

- Multiplayer is fun

Cons

- Long, tedious and insufferable single player campaign

- Too long loading screens in single player campaign

- This two achievements:

-- Get to level 100

-- Defeat 'Bin' in multiplayer (who the f\u2665ck is Bin!). best indie game this year!. If you want a harder fortrix, thats the way you could go

This game is way less fanservicey than the other ones audiovise

Its also casual and fun once you are totaly bored and have nothing to do

7 carddrops - since they are anime arround 13-17ct each.. thats most of the buyprice on the current sale

Couldnt rly complain about that

Pro:

- Easy achievements

- Being able to lower difficulty to a babymode every small child could beat (kappa)

- Simply casual game

- steep difficulty

- "fanservice" for those that rly wanna have this its a plus

- cheap

- Many carddrops and no cheap ones either

- Music is quite okay

Con:

- 1,5-2hrs playtime if you rush

- No real replayability (mahjong/poker at least had)

- The backgrounds often make barely any sense.. walking arround in a bikini at a tanabata event... rly?

75V100 pretty solid overall

Price is okay for what you can get

Not even at $0,57 can I recommend this game to anyone :P. My expectatoin were low but this game is a total waste of time. Basically you walk slowly(or extra slowly if you hold shift) through pretty repetitive and uninteresting rooms for 90% of the game occasionally solving simple\tedious find all the switches style puzzles. There are two segments during which you are forced to run which are somewhat tense but the rest of the time you are just walking slowly with the occasional loud noise scare popping up. While you are trying to enjoy your walking simulator you recieve the story in a pretty monotone narration that is very vague\ nonsensical at times. I was really expecting this to be a Dear Esther clone, but it doesn't even deserve to be compared to that game.

One of the main issues I have with this game is the immersion. In a game like this atmosphere is everything and a big part of that is being in control and experiencing everythging first hand. However repeatedly the game takes control of the camera and completely breaks the mood. The best example of this is the cage scene in the trailer featured on the store page(that scene which appeared to be interactive was half the reason i bought the game), That whole segment is a cutscene though you have no control whatsoever on the cage comes down even though the trailer makes it appear that way. It also doesn't help that there are a mind numbingly large amount of dead ends V repetitive empty rooms that you have to go through. There is also a surprisingly small amount of detail given to each are sure there were a couple of areas which appeared interesting but for the most part the enviorment was very bland.

Finally the cherry on the pie is the game is a whole 40 minutes to an hour long. I came in at 60 minutes on the dot and that was after dying repeatedly and having the game crash to desktop 30 minutes in. It also ends rather abruptly with a cliffhanger that will lead into part 2 if it is ever made.. This game has a truly powerful engine for building levels! Once the community gets strong, endless bullet patterns for everyone!. Funny game.

You can earn achievements.

And you can get trading cards.. UPDATE: The developer, Kris, has been very active on the forums. He's taken all the feedback we've given and in a short month, been able to add multiple features such as a tournament settings mode, a live mutliplayer mode (not async-only anymore), live chat, campaign changes etc. There's more in the patch. Very surprised at the level of dedication and involvement from the developer. Check out the game!

Interesting tactical game. The gameplay mechanics and unit classes are very fun. There is a singleplayer campaign, but I bought it mainly for the multiplayer, because there are several game modes (1v1, 3-player 1v1v1 and even 4-players versus each other, with 20+ maps). Downside is that it is asynchronous unless your opponents are present and playing automatically. Developer has shown interest in improving and making quicker games, hope they add a live game mode option (or shorter time-to-take-turn). Nice little game to pass time. I would reccommend if: 1) you dont mind asynchronous game, 2) you enjoy and support tactical turn-based games. I mainly bought it bc I support this genre and these turn-based pvp games come too few and far between.

With that said, I am not sure how big the multiplayer base will be, and it is a one-man-developer team so there are some inevitable limitations that come with that. There are several updates planned to be released, so definitely a game to look out for. If you're buying for multiplayer, I'd recommend waiting to see how the MP updates turn out.. Bees_1 and put it behind you, that is the reason you bought this game.. Sprint Shoot Jump Dodge Shoot Sprint Shoot Shoot Shoot Sprint Lose

Need more like this!. teased so many modding options. for starters, the cover car isnt even in the game. second, theres no spoilers for cars in the game at all. even with all dlc. i suppose what it did add is pretty ok... something like the sporty package version of the vanilla cars. but still little to no custom options and very very limited tuning.
